GENDER EQUALITY DRIVE

Aaghaaz- the Women Development Cell of CVS successfully conducted a Gender Equality Drive on 18th January 2017 and took a step towards breaking this old misconception, liberating pink and blue from the chasms of orthodox patterns. All the boys wore Pink and the lovely ladies wore Blue. All the males including both students and faculty tied pink ribbons with the male label and women tied blue ribbons with the female label on them to stand against the feminization of Pink and the masculinity associated with blue. This event witnessed almost 3/4th of the college joining hands with us and standing against this taboo. It got us a massive response to drain out the hesitancy against colour discrimination.

At the time of birth. The baby is categorised in the colours of pink and blue respective of their genders. The feminisation of Pink and the masculinity associated with blue must be done away with. Help us achieve this objective.
