First Aid Workshop

First aid is the assistance given to anyone suffering from sudden illness or injury. This helps to preserve life, prevent condition from worsening and promote recovery. In order to enlighten the students of College of Vocational Studies, a workshop regarding the same was organised by the Department of physical education of College of Vocational Studies on 31st August, 2016. This helped the students to discover various methods to provide first aid not only for their benefit but for the benefit of the society as a whole.
